Company history

HATLAPA was founded by Dipl.-Ing. Max Hatlapa in 1919 near Hamburg, Germany, and the family have remained the major shareholder to this day.

Since the early days facilities and offices have grown so that there are now HATLAPA employees in 9 countries and 38 representative organisations world wide.

Compressors have been produced for over 80 years and this was complimented by the acquisition of the Hamworthy range and design in 2003.

HATLAPA values and promotes the safe operation and correct care for all equipment.

Maintenance, spare parts, repairs and conversions are offered. HATLAPA also promotes continued professional development, and investment in new machinery and processes.
