QUALITY, RELIABILITY AND FLEXIBILITY

Meeting the highest quality standards, providing excellent value for money, utmost flexibility and striving for continuous improvement to provide the best service possible have remained our guiding principles since 1975.

Since then MARES has been working successfully as an international trading company, specializing in the supply of spare parts and technical equipment for ships. Always seeking new challenges, we also use our expertise in maritime industry and long-established, extensive network of suppliers and manufacturers to supply stationary installations.

Our logistics structure allows us to deliver spare parts within a very short time, even if they are not immediately available at our Hamburg-based warehouse.
